Summer Reading

Youth Services Coordinator Ludington stated that USL has launched the Summer Reading Program (SRP) on all Utah bookmobiles. Although some bookmobiles had offered SRP's in the past, this is the first time that all bookmobiles will be taking the program on their weekly routes and signing up children throughout their respective counties (as opposed to just at the repositories or not at all).

Through a partnership with the Governor's Commission on Literacy and McDonald's Restaurants, Information Specialist Jeri Openshaw and Youth Services Coordinator Ludington arranged for special events featuring Ronald McDonald on 6 of the USL bookmobiles throughout June and July; in addition, as part of this partnership, USL contributed to the creation of the Governor's "Summer Reading Challenge Calendar," copies which have since been distributed widely to public libraries, schools, and other youth-oriented organizations. McDonald's also designed a tray liner promoting summer reading, which is going on trays at McDonald's Restaurants across Utah. (attachment #3, The Governor's Summer Reading Challenge Calendar 2009)

Youth Services Coordinator Ludington also discussed how summer reading programs (SRP's) normally work and explained the importance of such programs. She went on to explain the origin of the grassroots organization, the Collaborative Summer Library Program (CSLP), which is a consortium of 48 states who pull their resources together to develop Summer Reading Program themes, artwork, instruction manuals, and incentives at affordable rates for members. Utah has been a member of CSLP since 1997. The manuals that are developed are distributed to all public libraries in Utah and anecdotal feedback indicates that 80% of all public libraries make significant use of the manuals and other amenities.

Information Specialist Openshaw discussed the Governor's Summer Reading Program and how McDonald's is working with USL on this project. She stated that McDonald's has been involved in this initiative for the past three years and this year McDonald's has volunteered to have Ronald McDonald go out to the Bookmobiles and do storytelling. (attachment #4, Outstanding Library of the Year press release) years and at the next Board meeting he will be asking for input from the Board members. He stated the goal is to have the Strategic Plan finalized by the end of September.
